$50 REWARD!

Stolen from the undersigned, on the pigke of April 29, 1874, a large, very dark iron-gray horse, about 5 years old, and about 16 handhigh. The horse has very much the appearance of a stallion, very heavy mane and tall carries his head well up, has a white spot the size of a half dollar on the under part of the neck, about half way between the head and breast, and several saddle marks on the back. Had on, when stolen, a black quilted English saddle and a curb bit bridle. The horse paces a little, but rather awkwardly, and works well in harness.

The above reward will be paid for the return of the thief and horse, or $25 for the return of the horse alone. DR. R. H. JONES,

NORMAN, JR.

This splendid young Stallion will stand the persent season at Ganovia, the place of General R. M. Gano, eight miles south of Dallas, five from Lanfifty dollars the season, and will be limited to forty mares. Grass and attention given mares from a distance free of charge. The season will open the 20th of March and will close the 4th of July, 1874. R. M. GANO.

Description and Pedigree. NORMAN, Jr., was foaled May 20, 1870; is a beautiful buy, 16 hands high; is a splendid trotter, of superior style, finish and action. He was sired by old Norman, the sire of Blackwood, Lula, Norman Temple, Bourboo Girl, Robert Lee, Norman D., Norman Jetc., etc., which ranged in price from $45,000 tu $5,000. His dam by Dlomede; second dam by Bertrand.

Bertrand.

As extraordinary opportunity is now afficiated the people of Texas, that of breeding to this most celebrated family of trotters: Norman D., at Captain Ed. Stiff's stables, near McKinney, in Collin county, and Norman Jr., at General R. M. Gano's place in Dallas county—both of the same family and at the same price. There is a difference of opinion as to which is the finest horse.

Which will excel in fine horse stock, Dallas or Collin? A twenty dollar cup will be given to the best colt, of each sex, of each horse's get, making four twenty dollar cups. Norman D.'s colts will be shown in September, 1875, at Captain Stiff's residence, and Norman Jr.'s colts will be shown at General R. M. Gano's, in the same month—unless a majority of the breeders should vote to assemble both lots at Plano, the half-way ground.
